Jaisalmer, famously called "the golden city", is located in the Indian state of Rajasthan, 575 Km (357 Mi) West of the State Capital Jaipur. Once Known as Jaisalmer State it is a world heritage site. The town stands on ridge of yellowish sandstone, crowned by a fort, which contains the palace and several ornate Jain temples. Many of the houses and temples are finely sculptured. It lies in the heart of the Thar Desert (the Great Indian Desert) and has a population of about 78,000.

It is the administrative headquarters of Jaisalmer district. Jaisalmer is named after Maharaja Jaisal Singh, a Rajput king who founded the city in 1156 ad. "Jaisalmer" means "The Hill Fort of Jaisal".

Jaisalmer is sometimes called "golden city of India" because the yellow sand and the yellow sandstone used in every structure of the city gives a yellowish-golden tinge to the city and its surrounding area.

It is the largest district of Rajasthan and third largest district by area in the country, hugged on the west & south west by the Pakistan border. The length of the international border of Jaisalmer district is 471 km(293mi).
